The Future Is Now

The Future is Now Media Group, a boutique media & PR agency that has been on the market since 2017, will be producing a 25 minute film at DSRPTD, as a part of its decentralized docu series "The Future is Now Film" created for the community by the community. The film serves as a visual marketing vehicle for companies partaking in the event and specifically scales the image, info presence and provides marketing value on top of the image within the film for those who wish to co-produce this particular film episode. The film will be released on <http://thefutureisnow.community> Youtube channel and marketed through 10+ top tiered fintech/business/crypto editorial publications & 30+ press releases, mentioning participating co-producers of the film within an organic review article about DSRPTD and the film, interwoven carefully and organically into the script, to elevate the image and PR value for the participating heroes of the film. The goal is to create a lasting image that is one of a kind currently on the fintech media market, elevate the google rank of the participants, and provide them with PR value in form of publications on top, creating a lasting memory that the viewer will be inspired to relive and join.
